With the name perfectly matching its creative concept, Atomo represents the passion for craftsmanship and design. At the base, the piece comprises of ten marble spheres, each of them separately hand-finished by our artisans, and, at the top, a glass plate, created traditionally by a local glassmaker.

The curved morphology of the glass is aligned with the global fluidity of Atomo as an object that can decorate a shelf, hold candles, toiletries, and perfumes, or serve an irresistible cake on a dining table. The marble selection for the spheres follows a careful process of combining tones to create a harmonious palette and shapes, as the veins of the stones give this piece a unique and unrepeatable character. This marble accessory was born to add a sculptural feeling to any room
